

Major tourist spots in Bangladesh

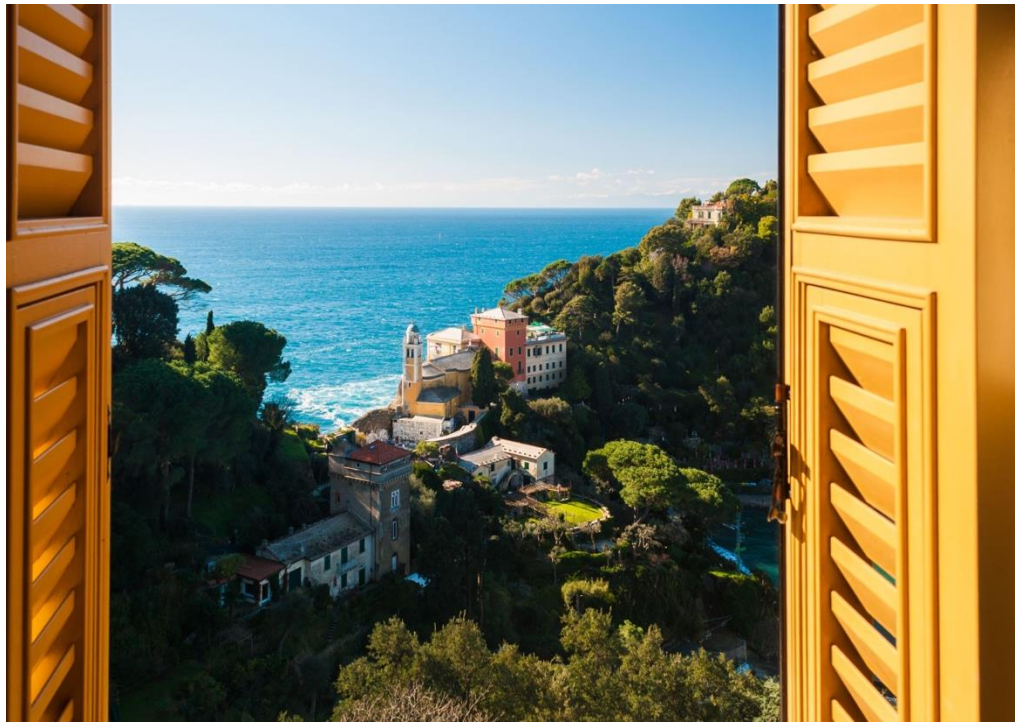

Tourism is one of the world's fastest-growing industries and a major foreign exchange and employment generation for many countries. It is one of the most remarkable economic and social phenomena.

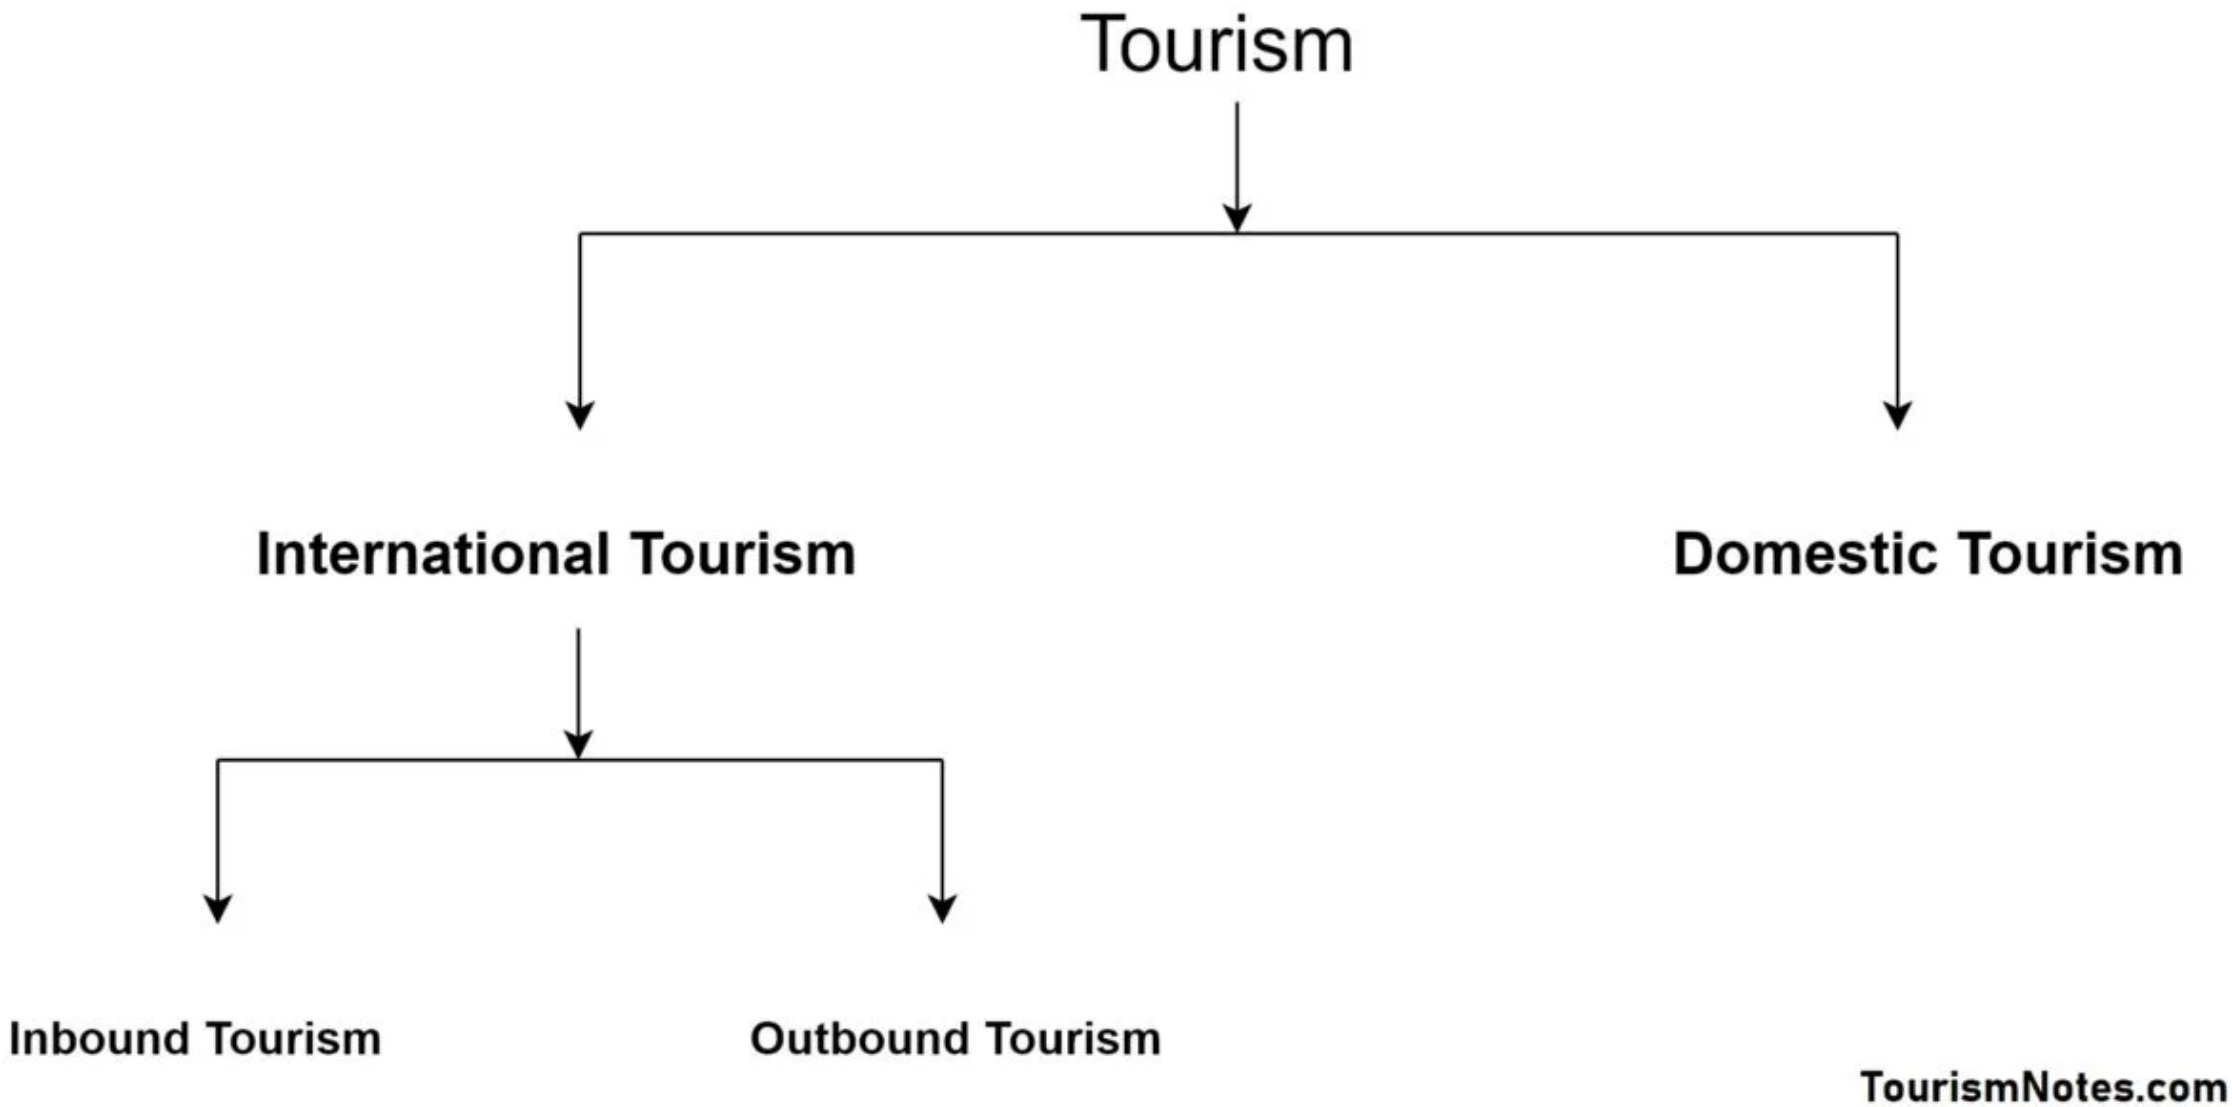

The word 'tour' is derived from the Latin word tornus, meaning 'a tool for making a circle.' Tourism may be defined as the movement of people from their usual place of residence to another place (with the intention to return) for a minimum period of twenty-four hours to a maximum of six months for the individual purpose of leisure.

According to WTO (1993), ” Tourism encompasses the activities of persons traveling and staying in places outside their usual environment for not more than one consecutive year for leisure, business, and other purposes.”

The Rome conference on tourism in 1963 defined tourism as ‘ a visit to a country other than one’s own or where one usually resides and works.

Classification of Tourism

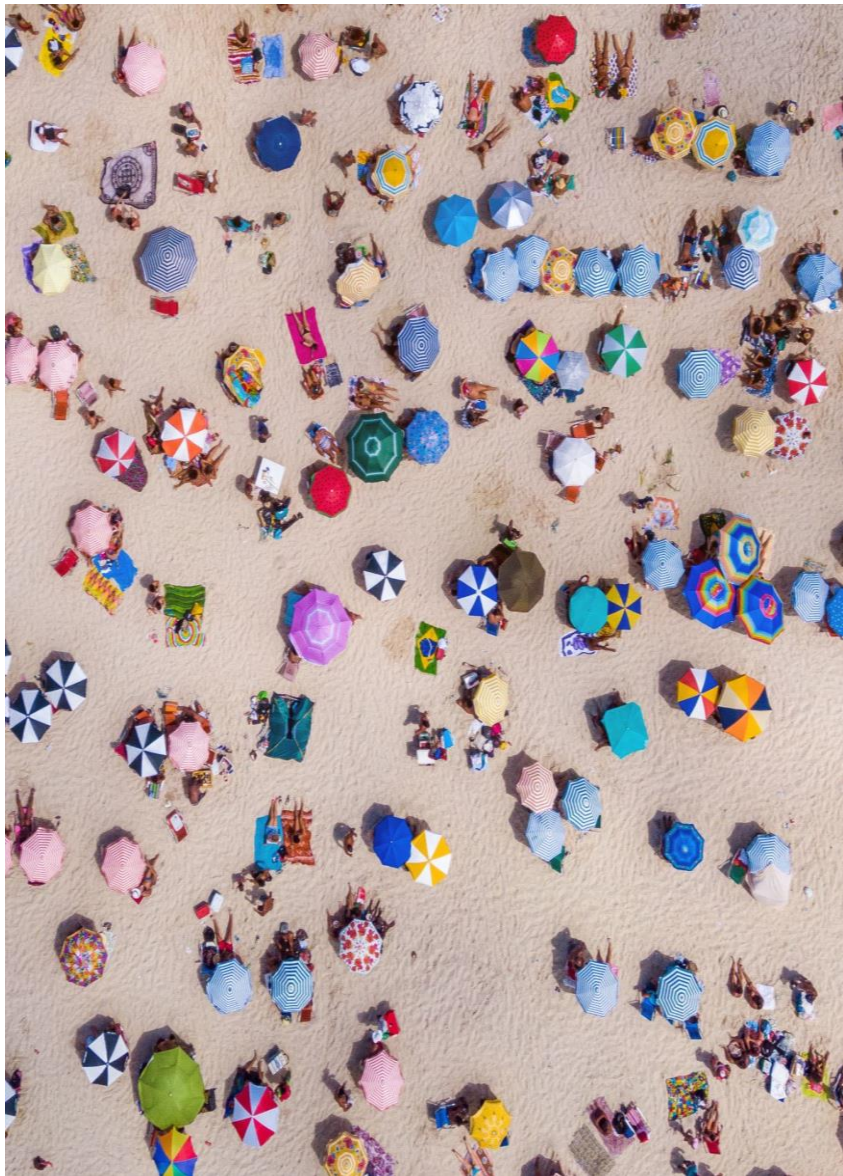

Tourism can be classified into six categories according to the purpose of travel. These are the following:

1) Recreational: Recreational or leisure tourism takes a person away from the boring of everyday life. In this case, people spend their leisure time in the hills, sea beaches, etc.

2) Cultural tourism satisfies cultural and intellectual curiosity and involves visits to ancient monuments, places of historical or religious importance, etc.

3) Sports/Adventure: Trips taken by people with a view to playing golf, hiking, fall within this category.

4) Health: Under this category, people travel for medical, treatment or visit places where there are health-giving possibilities, for example, hot springs, spa yoga, etc.

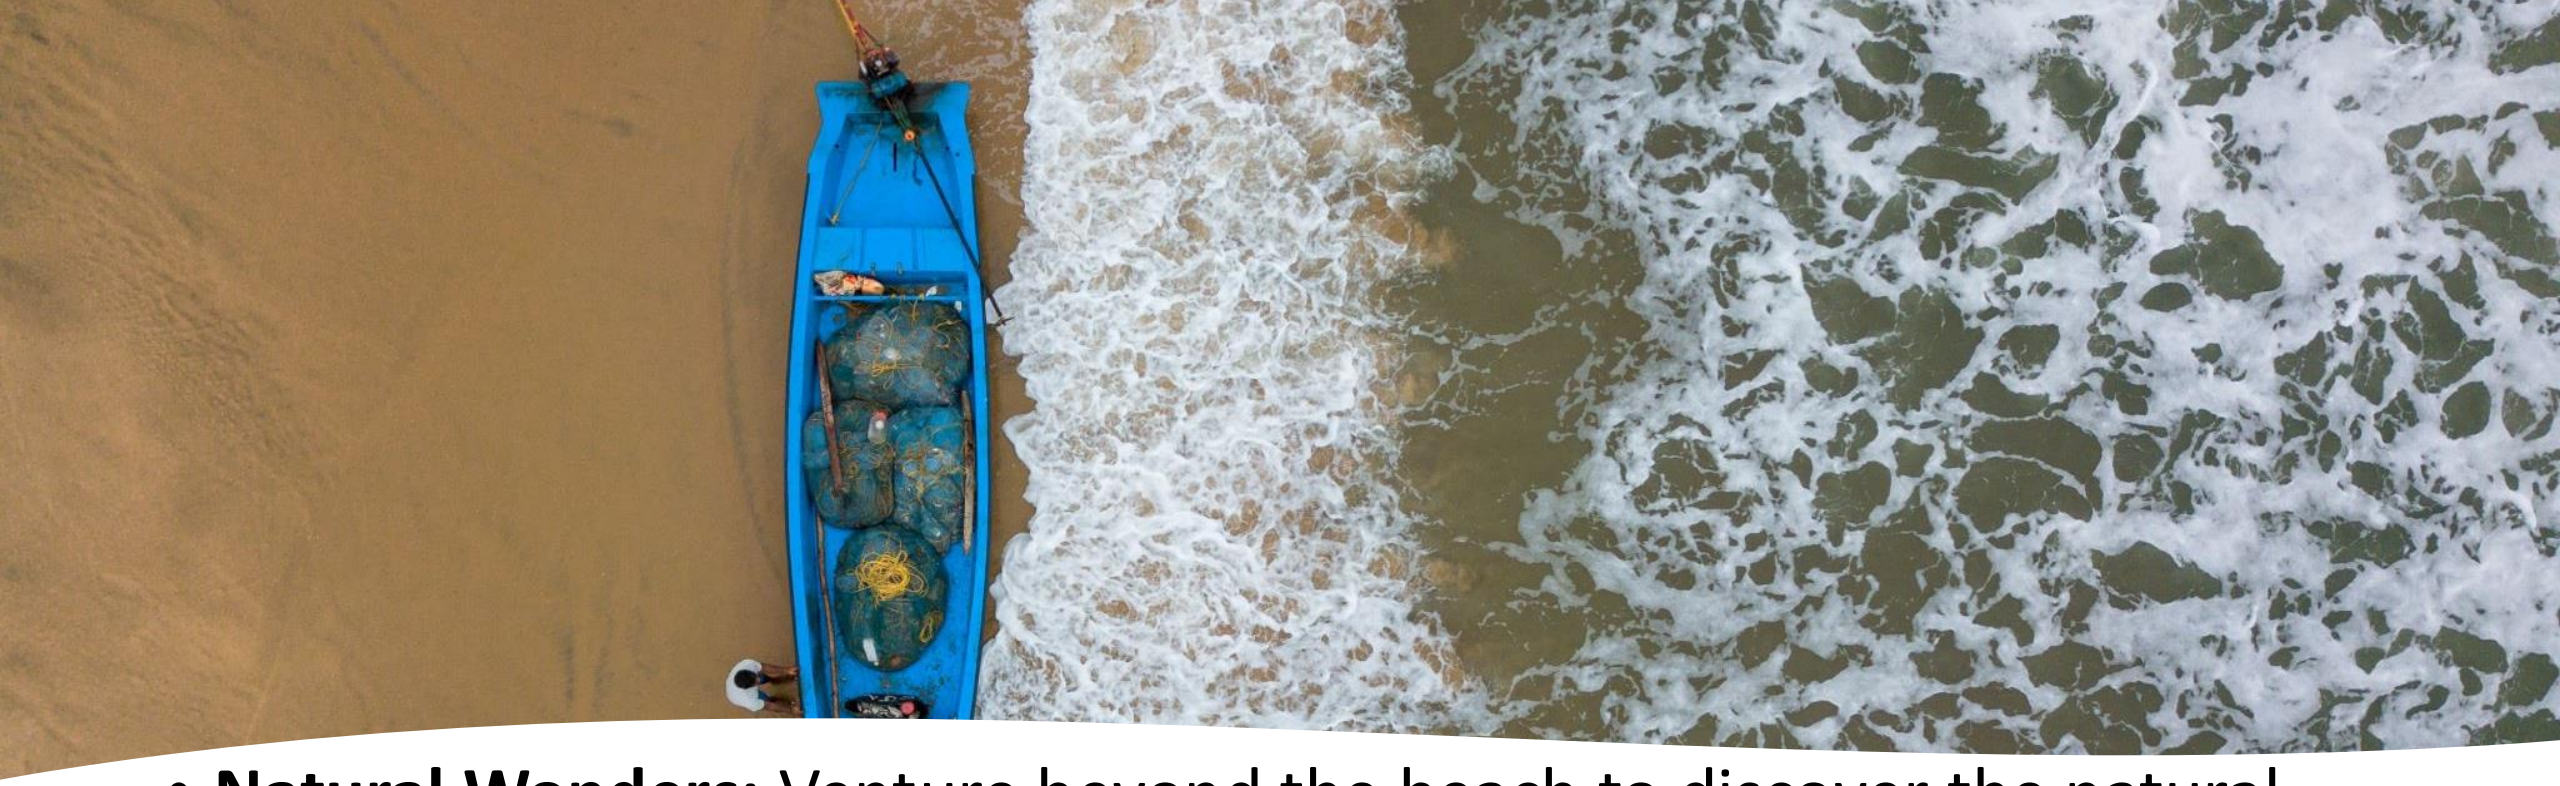

5) Convention Tourism: It is becoming an increasingly important component of travel. People travel within a country or overseas to attend conventions relating to their business, profession, or interest.

6) Incentive Tourism: Holiday trips are offered as incentives by major companies to dealers and salesmen who achieve high targets in sales. This is a new and expanding phenomenon in tourism, These are in position of cash incentives or gifts, Today incentive tourism is a 3 billion dollar business in the USA alone.

- Patenga Beach

- Patenga is a popular tourist spot. The beach is very close to the Bangladesh Naval Academy of the Bangladesh Navy and Shah Amanat International Airport.

- Its width is narrow and swimming in the seas is not recommended. Part of the seaboard is built-up with concrete walls, and large blocks of stones have been laid to prevent erosion. During the 1990s, a host of restaurants and stands developed out around the beach area. Lighting of the area has enhanced the security aspect of visiting at night.

- Jaflong
- Jaflong, located between tea gardens and hills, is the tourist hotspot of Sylhet, a hill station, positioned on the border between Bangladesh and Meghalaya, the north-eastern state of India. Also home to the Khasi tribe, Jaflong is famed for its lush, tropical setting and the areas of natural beauty surrounding it.
- In Jaflong, visitors can also take in the cascading waterfalls and rich greenery of the mountains of Meghalaya, and visit the historic Dawki Bridge, a suspension bridge built by the British in 1932 and a road border crossing between Bangladesh and India.

- Ratargul Forest is the only fresh water Forest in Bangladesh and maintained by the Forest Department of Bangladesh.
- Ratargul Forest stays underwater for five to six months per year. During this time, thousands of tourists come to see the underwater trees. Be sure not to miss beautiful Ratargul Watch Tower. Increase to the top and enjoy the views of the forest.
- Various exciting activities, such as kayaking, are available at Ratargul. Kayaks allow visitors the freedom to roam anyplace they wish, enjoying their own pace. Each kayak has capacity for three people,
- Ratargul features a variety of wildlife reservations. For example, bird lovers can enjoy findings of various bird types and nature supporter can experience many different kinds of plants.

With extraordinarily similar views to famed hill station Jaflong, Bholaganj SadaPathor, located in the Companiganj Upazila and near East Khasi Hills district of Meghalaya, India, is famous for beautiful stones, crystal clear water and green mountains. In this “heaven of white stones,” visitors can enjoy swimming, floating or simply soaking their feet in the beautiful cool water. Two other must-see places near Bholaganj include Utma Sora and Turong Sora.
